Natural law, more specifically, is an aspect of God's natural revelation by which He makes known His basic moral law to all people, not through Scripture but through the world He has made. To be clear, by "natural law" I don't mean people's theories about natural law, but the law itself that God reveals through His creation and which thus exists independently of

Why Protestant Christianity Needs a Theology of Natural Law

Whereas the biblical portrait of natural law is other-directed, ordered to self-giving love, the modern accounts turn inward upon the self, with reductive consequences. The final two chapters employ theological and philosophical investigation to achieve a contemporary doctrine of natural law that accords with the biblical witness to a loving Creator.
